

Attend the Biggest U.S. Event Showcasing the Use of XBRL, an Enabling Technology for Better, Faster & More Cost-Effective Business Reporting

Financial Industry Luminaries to Deliver Keynotes

U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Chairman Christopher Cox will keynote a faculty of thought leaders in the industry including the following invited and confirmed speakers:

- Sir David Tweedie, Chairman (IASB)
- Samuel Mok, CFO (U.S. Department of Labor)
- Robert H. Herz, Chairman (FASB)
- Barry C. Melancon, President & CEO (AICPA)
- Ian Ball, Chief Executive (IFAC)
- Martin Gruenberg, Vice Chairman (FDIC)
- Edward Screven, Chief Corporate Architect (Oracle)
- Jeffrey J. Diermeier, President and CEO (CFA Institute)
- Paul Sharman, President & CEO (IMA)

This 14th International Conference is hosted by XBRL-US, the U.S. jurisdiction of XBRL International, a consortium with over 480 member organizations worldwide who are working to develop and promote the adoption of XBRL. You can read more about XBRL at www.xbrl.org.

Why should you attend?

Since 1998, XBRL has established itself as the standard for improving the transparency of external financial reporting, the standard that will revolutionize internal reporting, and the standard to which regulators and government agencies around the world are turning to improve both reporting quality and efficiency. Over the course of four days, you will learn everything you need to know in order to build or improve the XBRL-based systems in your organization, whether they be business, government, academic, or consumer.

	Early Bird Discount (Before October 27, 2006)	Full Conference (After October 27, 2006)
XBRL Members	$950	$1,100
Non-members	$1,175	$1,300

For more information, visit <http://conference.xbrl.org>.

XBRL allows the platform independent definition, exchange, and dissemination of business reporting information. It can be used to express a wide range of reports and disclosures including financial statements, internal management information, regulatory returns, statistical reports, and credit filings. XBRL International is a non-profit consortium whose members include approximately 350 leading organizations from all segments of the business information supply chain. XBRL has been widely recognized as an important component in the improvement of corporate transparency.